The Pennine Way National Trail is possibly the most iconic long-distance walk in the UK, and any section of it is worth tackling. This exhilarating walk starts where the Pennine Way itself starts, in the village of Edale, nestled below the formidable gritstone slopes of Kinder Scout. It stays with the Pennine Way for just over three miles until the trail heads north over Kinder. At that point this route turns southwards instead, over the lonely summit of Brown Knoll, before returning to Edale via Rushup Edge and the Great Ridge. Rushup Edge, an easy and enjoyable walk, is topped with a Bronze Age barrow called Lord's Seat. Quite soon after passing Lord's Seat, you'll descend steeply to Mam Nick for the brief climb up to the Great Ridge, where the charismatic summit of Mam Tor is topped by a hillfort which is the largest in Derbyshire. There are two Bronze Age barrows on the site but the fort itself seems not to have been occupied until the Iron Age, from c1200BCE. To put that in context, the carboniferous rocks which constitute Mam Tor were formed about 320 million years ago. Further along the ridge is Hollins Cross, from where an enjoyable descent to Edale completes a satisfying day.

A smell of baking bread, bottles of local wine and apple juice, bunches of fresh herbs ... the Suffolk Food Hall is packed with good things to eat and drink. You can have tea and scones with a view of the Orwell Estuary then take a stroll through the farm fields that produce some local edibles, from beef to sugar beet. This is a walk that gets better as it goes on, with paths through ancient woods and pretty valleys to a viewpoint by the River Orwell.

footpath sign along concrete track away from road. Keep straight past Suffolk Food Hall.

2¼ mile/0.4km

Follow concrete track uphill (ignore Private Road sign). Keep on past flint-walled church. At crossroads with cottages, keep straight on tarmac lane. Cross main road carefully, heading slightly L and continue on concrete track past gate to reservoir.

3 1½ miles/2.5km

Keep going on path through trees. Keep R at first fork on rough, but defined path, heading downhill and slightly R. Cross stream and continue between fences and under brick railway tunnel.

track. Keep L on path with hedge on R then pylons. Soon after joining pylons, turn L at post with waymark, over field. Cross railway via stiles/steps.

4 2½ miles/3.6km

Keep straight across another field, through hedge, and turn L. Turn R around meadow keeping Jimmy's Farm on L and head for gate near trees. Cross lane, pass gate, turn R on grassy track and very soon L on field edge path with trees on L. Turn L on road. Cross main road into Valley Lane. Keep straight on lane to business centre and continue on drive by posts, keeping all buildings on L.

5 3½ miles/5.6km

Keep straight on concrete track, staying L with oaks on L.

Follow track through gate into woods and continue near edge of wood. Keep on, winding R past smaller wood and uphill past cottage. At Bond Hall Farm, turn L on lane. After about 200m, turn L again at footpath sign, along lane between hedges. At junction of tracks, turn R, following sign for Lodge Farm House Only. Near house, keep straight down track and follow it into trees. Fork R at footpath sign onto smaller path. Turn L on lane past Freston church.

6 5¼ miles/8.5km

Follow lane R and immediately turn L onto narrow, signed footpath into woods, joining waymarked Stour and Orwell Walk. Follow defined path down through trees. Keep straight on muddy path and over footbridge. Go through gate into field and turn R across pasture to another gate. Keep straight across corner of arable field and continue by edge to road.

7 5½ miles/9.2km

Emerging onto road, turn immediately sharp L onto footpath and follow it R across field towards farm. Cross lane and keep straight onto grassy track between fences. At far end, turn R back to bus stop or L for car park and café. CWV here, go forward through gate then take paved path L, over Brown Knoll. The path initially follows a wall, then bears away from it, before temporarily returning to the wall.

2 3¼ miles/6km

As the path moves away from the wall again, look for another paved path going L. Follow it to the trig point then continue SE. About 1½ miles from the trig you'll come to a junction marked only by the remains of a fingerpost. Turn R on wide, sandy path which leads to stone wall, then turn L on path 124, signed 'to Castleton and Hope by Mam Tor and Hollins Cross'. Follow this path over Rushup Edge.

DON'T MISS...

The Moorland Centre is Edale's visitor information centre. There are exhibitions and interactive displays, and a shop where you can buy books and maps.

1 Start

Head N from station or car park, following lane into village, as far as Old Nags Head. Take Pennine Way L, signed to Upper Booth. Follow Pennine Way for about 3¼ miles until it turns sharp R towards Kinder Scout. Leave it Descend to road at Mam Nick, turn L, then take path R, and turn R, initially by road, for path up Mam Tor. From top, a gentle descent along ridge-top leads to the col at Hollins Cross. Descend L on path.

3 7½ miles/12km

At waymarked junction take bridleway L. At Greenlands (farmhouse) descend farm lane to road. Turn R, then L to Edale station and car park. CWV
